

The impact of the Framework for Excellence on Skills for Life teaching and learning

At: The Roundhouse, Roundhouse Road, Pride Park, Derby DE24 8JE

On: Tuesday 22nd June 2010, 6.00 – 8.00 pm

The topics covered will include:

- An update on new inspection requirements and procedures
- Teaching & learning strategies to promote equality and diversity
- Safeguarding
- How to present data on outcomes for learners to illustrate equality and diversity
- Evidencing formative assessment
- Where are you with the Framework for Excellence?

If there are any other issues you would like to see included, please let us know and/or bring along your burning questions on the day.

Target audience: Tutors, trainers, teachers and managers from the Lifelong Learning Sector

Cost: £35 per person

This is a workshop session delivered by Sue Partridge, Director of SPEC Ltd. Sue has worked in the post-16 sector for 29 years and is currently researching adults' reading skills. As a part-time Ofsted inspector, Sue is involved in the consultancy on quality improvement with respect to Skills for Life and management issues. She is a skilled trainer (currently delivering courses on dyslexia assessment and support) and will make your workshop active and enjoyable.

To book a place contact:

Ros Warren by Friday 18th June

Tel:

(01332) 520281

E-mail:

ros.warren@derby-college.ac.uk

